

01 SMALL TALK

When you get stuck on a new app or phone setting, do you ask someone right away, or try it yourself first?

When was the last time you asked someone for help at work or school? Was it easy or a bit awkward?

When you start something new, do you read the instructions first, or just jump in and learn as you go?

02 POP QUIZ — DOES THIS SOUND NATURAL?

① ~~"My company is very welfare."~~

✓ "My company has great benefits."

welfare는 형용사가 아니에요. 회사 복지는 benefits로 쓰고, welfare 단독은 정부 생활보조 느낌이에요.

② ~~"I resigned my job."~~

✓ "I quit my job."

resign은 목적어 없이 쓰거나 resign from my job 형태예요. 일상 회화에선 quit my job이 자연스러워요.

③ ~~"I want to develop myself."~~

✓ "I want to grow."

develop myself는 어색해요. 자기계발은 grow, improve myself로 풀어요.

03 오늘의 워업

각자 1-4위로 순위 매기고 1위만 말하기. 다른 사람 의견 들으며 자기 순위 한 번 더 정리.

WARM-UP

Rank Them (5분)

1. Ask a coworker right away when you get stuck
2. Try it yourself first, then ask if you are still stuck
3. Search online or check the manual before asking
4. Watch how other people do it, then copy them

CAREER · MAIN DISCUSSION

First-Day Work Questions — Ask Fast or Figure It Out?

🇰🇷 BACKGROUND

처음 하는 일이나 알바에서 모르는 걸 바로 물어볼지, 혼자 찾아볼지는 신입 때 많이 부딪히는 고민이에요. 질문을 빨리 하면 실수를 줄일 수 있지만, 너무 자주 물으면 준비가 부족해 보일까 걱정될 수 있어요. 반대로 혼자 오래 붙잡고 있으면 시간을 낭비하거나 더 큰 실수로 이어질 수 있죠. 중요한 건 질문의 양보다 방식이에요. 내가 어디까지 확인했고 무엇이 막혔는지 말하면 질문도 일의 일부가 돼요.

📖 READ BEFORE WE TALK

On a first day at work, asking questions can feel both necessary and risky. Asking quickly prevents mistakes and helps you learn the real process. But new workers may worry that too many questions make them look unprepared. Trying alone can show independence, yet it can also waste time or create avoidable errors. The best question is usually not, "I don't know anything." It shows what you already checked and where you got stuck. Learning how to ask well is part of becoming useful. A good workplace also makes room for questions before silence turns into bigger problems. Career choices often carry two feelings at once: wanting growth and wanting stability. A step that looks brave to one person may look risky to another.

💡 WORDS YOU MIGHT NEED

ask right away — 바로 물어보다

figure it out myself — 혼자 해결하다

learn as you go — 하면서 배우다

Here's what I tried... — 여기까지 해봤어요

Quick question — 잠깐 질문이요

I'll give it a shot — 한번 해볼게요

🗣️ TRY THESE PHRASES

I'd say I would ask quickly, because ____.

In my case, on the first day I would ____ — ____.

The way I see it, a good question shows ____.

What makes someone look prepared is ____.

⚡ EASY ENTRY

- 1 Are you more of a 'just ask someone' or a 'Google it first' person when you get stuck on a task?
- 2 When was the last time you asked someone how to do something new — and what was it?
- 3 Quick — if you had to pick: ask right away, try once then ask, or struggle alone for an hour?
- 4 On a scale of 1 to 5, how comfortable are you asking 'dumb' questions on your first day of something new?

🗣️ MAIN DISCUSSION

Q1. On a first day at a new job, would you ask quickly or try to figure it out alone first? Why?

↳ I'd say I would ask quickly, because ____.

↳ In my case, on the first day I would ____ — ____.

Q2. What kind of question makes a new person look prepared instead of lazy?

↳ The way I see it, a good question shows ____.

↳ What makes someone look prepared is ____.

Q3. When does asking too much become a problem at work?

↳ It becomes a problem when ____.

↳ Honestly, asking is fine — but ____.

Q4. How can a workplace make questions feel safe?

↳ It starts with ____.

↳ What helps people feel safe is ____.

Q5. Would you rather have a high-paying job you dislike or a low-paying job you love?

↳ I lean more toward the ____ job, because ____.

↳ It depends on the person, but for me ____.