

01 SMALL TALK

How has your week been — busy or chill?

Do you take photos of your food or things you make?

What's one small thing that made you happy this week?

🔍 02 POP QUIZ — DOES THIS SOUND NATURAL?

① ~~"I resigned my job."~~

✓ "I quit my job."

*resign*은 'resign from my job'처럼 써요. 일상 회화에선 그냥 *quit*이 자연스러워요.② ~~"My company is very welfare."~~

✓ "My company has great benefits."

*welfare*는 형용사가 아니에요. '복지가 좋다'는 *has great benefits*로 말해요.③ ~~"I want to develop myself."~~

✓ "I want to grow professionally."

'자기계발'의 직역이에요. *grow, improve my skills*가 훨씬 자연스러워요.

WARM-UP

Two Truths, One Lie (8분)

① I once got chosen for something because of real work I showed, not my resume.

② I keep a portfolio (files, photos, or notes) of things I actually made or did.

③ I once learned a new skill just to solve one real problem in front of me.

Proof-of-Work Careers — Portfolio or Real Experience?

BACKGROUND

스펙보다 내가 실제로 해본 일을 보여줘야 한다면 준비 방식이 달라져요. 멋진 파일이나 화려한 디자인보다, 어떤 문제를 봤고 무엇을 시도했고 결과가 어땠는지를 설명할 수 있어야 해요. 현장에서 증명하는 방식은 부담스럽지만, 자격증이나 이력서만으로는 보이지 않는 태도와 실행력을 보여줄 수 있어요. 핵심은 포트폴리오가 예쁘냐가 아니라, 내 경험 이 실제로 쓸모 있게 연결되는지예요.

READ BEFORE WE TALK

Proof-of-work careers ask people to show what they have actually done, not just what they studied or wrote on a resume. This can feel fresh, because a real project, customer feedback, or personal work can show your ability better than a title. It can also feel scary, because this kind of proof is harder to fake and easier to question. A good portfolio does not need to look fancy. It should explain the problem, what you did, the result, and what you learned. The value is not in looking impressive. It is in showing useful experience that can move to real work. Career choices often mix two feelings: we want to grow, but we also want to feel safe. A choice that looks brave to one person can look risky to another. Money, timing, confidence, and family all change how realistic a next step feels.

WORDS YOU MIGHT NEED

from scratch — 처음부터, 맨땅에서

get my foot in the door — 첫 기회를 잡다

it didn't go as planned — 계획대로 안 됐다

wear many hats — 여러 역할을 하다

the work speaks for itself — 결과물이 알아서 증명한다

learn it the hard way — 직접 겪으며 배우다

TRY THESE PHRASES

The best proof is __, because anyone can talk but __.

Honestly, I would just show __ — that says more than words.

It really comes down to __, not how pretty it looks.

Compared to a nice design, __ matters way more to me.

EASY ENTRY

1 Are you more of a 'collect-the-certificate' person or a 'just-build-the-thing' person when you want to prove a skill?

2 When was the last time you saved a photo, file, or link of something you made — just in case you'd need to show it later?

3 Quick — if you had to pick: your resume, a portfolio, or a recommendation from someone — which would you hand over first?

4 Finish this: 'When someone asks what I'm actually good at, I usually __.'

MAIN DISCUSSION

Q1. If you had to prove you are good at something, what would you actually show a person?

↳ The best proof is __, because anyone can talk but __.

↳ Honestly, I would just show __ — that says more than words.

Q2. Does a portfolio need to look polished, or does the story matter more?

↳ It really comes down to __, not how pretty it looks.

↳ Compared to a nice design, __ matters way more to me.

Q3. A career risk feels worth it when... where is your line?

↳ A risk feels worth it when __, even if __.

↳ My line is simple: __ — if it's there, I go for it.

Q4. What makes someone's experience convincing instead of just "busy"?

↳ What makes it convincing is __, not just being busy.

↳ The difference is __ — busy people do a lot, but __.

Q5. Has what you want from a job changed over the years? How?

↳ Looking back, __ used to matter most, but now __.

↳ Yes, a lot has changed — these days I care about __ instead of __.
