

01 SMALL TALK

How was your weekend? Did you go anywhere fun?

What do you usually do on a long bus or subway ride?

What's one place near Busan you'd like to visit someday?

02 POP QUIZ — DOES THIS SOUND NATURAL?

1 ~~"The schedule is very tight."~~

✓ "My schedule's really tight right now."

문법은 맞지만 딱딱해요. 보통 'my schedule'로 누구 일정인지 밝히고 'really tight/packed'라고 말해요.

2 ~~"I want to go travel."~~

✓ "I want to go on a trip."

'go travel'은 동사 두 개가 어색하게 붙어요. 'travel' 또는 'go on a trip / go traveling'이 자연스러워요.

3 ~~"I took a rest in hotel."~~

✓ "I rested at the hotel."

'take a rest'보다 동사 'rest/relax'가 자연스럽고, 장소엔 관사가 필요해서 'at the hotel'이에요.

Long Travel Rides — Journey Vibes or Wasted Time?

🇰🇷 BACKGROUND

가까운 여행이라도 이동 방식에 따라 여행의 느낌이 완전히 달라져요. 비행기처럼 빠른 이동을 선호하는 사람에게 긴 버스나 야간 이동은 시간 낭비처럼 느껴질 수 있어요. 반대로 이동 중에 창밖을 보고, 편의점 간식을 먹고, 친구와 오래 이야기하는 시간까지 여행의 일부라고 느끼는 사람도 있죠. 핵심은 돈을 아끼는 것보다 그 긴 이동이 내 여행 체력과 기대에 맞는지에요.

📖 READ BEFORE WE TALK

A long ride can feel romantic, or it can feel like a waste of time. When a place is close and easy to reach fast, spending many hours on a bus or train can seem like a strange choice. But some travelers enjoy the slow build-up: night roads, convenience-store snacks, quiet talks, and the feeling that the trip has already started before they arrive. Others would rather save their energy for the destination and pay more for a faster route. The choice depends on comfort, budget, travel style, and who is sitting next to you. A long ride is not always meaningful — it has to fit the kind of trip you want.
