

01 SMALL TALK

When you write something important, do you write it yourself first, or ask AI to help right away?

Is it okay to add a few keywords to your resume just to pass a filter? Yes or no?

When was the last time you wrote something about yourself, like a short intro or profile?

02 POP QUIZ — DOES THIS SOUND NATURAL?

① ~~"I want to develop myself."~~

✓ "I want to improve myself."

사람에겐 develop보다 improve나 grow가 자연스러워요. develop는 제품·사업에 더 어울려요.

② ~~"I resigned my job."~~

✓ "I quit my job."

일상 대화에선 quit이 자연스럽고, 격식 차릴 땐 resigned from my job이라고 해요.

③ ~~"My company is very welfare."~~

✓ "My company has great benefits."

회사 복지는 welfare가 아니라 benefits나 perks로 표현해야 자연스러워요.

1 Writing a resume: A) be 100% honest, or B) add job keywords first?

2 Your resume read first by: A) an AI filter, or B) a real person?

3 Better resume: A) sounds like the real you, or B) fits the system?

4 Not sure how to write: A) keep your own words, or B) copy the job ad words?

AI Resume Screening — Honest Experience or Keyword Strategy?

BACKGROUND

AI가 이력서나 자소서를 먼저 걸러낸다고 생각하면 글을 쓰는 기준이 달라질 수 있어요. 예전에는 사람에게 내 경험을 설득력 있게 보여주는 게 중요했다면, 이제는 채용 시스템이 어떤 키워드와 구조를 먼저 읽을지도 신경 쓰게 돼요. 문제는 전략적으로 쓰는 것과 나답게 쓰는 것 사이의 균형이에요. 직무 키워드를 넣고 문장을 정리하는 건 준비라고 볼 수 있지만, 너무 알고리즘에 맞추다 보면 실제 경험이 납작해 보일 수 있어요. 결국 좋은 자소서는 AI 필터를 통과하는 동시에, 사람이 읽었을 때도 이 사람이 어떤 일을 해왔는지 선명하게 보여줘야 해요.

READ BEFORE WE TALK

If AI screens resumes or cover letters first, applicants may start writing differently. Instead of only asking, "Will a person understand my story?", they also ask, "Will the system find the right skills, keywords, and structure?" That creates a real tension. Adding job-related keywords can be smart preparation, but writing only for an algorithm can make a personal experience sound flat or generic. A strong application has to do both: pass the first filter and still feel specific, believable, and human when an interviewer reads it later. This kind of screening changes the meaning of "good writing." Too few keywords may hide a strong experience, but too many can make the applicant sound like everyone else.

WORDS YOU MIGHT NEED

ask AI first — AI한테 먼저 물어보다

stuff in keywords — 키워드를 잔뜩 넣다

it feels forced — 억지스럽게 느껴진다

cross a line — 선을 넘다

play both sides — 양쪽 다 신경 쓰다

get my foot in the door — 첫 기회를 잡다

TRY THESE PHRASES

I'd say keywords matter more now, because ____.

The thing is, if the filter rejects you, ____.

The way I see it, the line is crossed when ____.

It's okay to ____, but not to ____.

EASY ENTRY

- 1 Are you more of a 'write-it-myself' or a 'use-a-template' person when you put together your resume?
- 2 When was the last time you tweaked your resume or cover letter, and what did you change?
- 3 Quick — if you had to pick: ChatGPT, a friend, or yourself — who checks your cover letter before you send it?
- 4 On a scale of 1 to 5, how often do you copy keywords straight from a job posting into your application?

MAIN DISCUSSION

Q1. If AI reads cover letters first, do keywords become more important than honest experience?

I'd say keywords matter more now, because ____.

The thing is, if the filter rejects you, ____.

Q2. Where is the line between organizing your experience and exaggerating it?

The way I see it, the line is crossed when ____.

It's okay to ____, but not to ____.

Q3. Can writing for the AI filter make your application sound less like you?

Honestly, it can, because ____ — but ____.

When everyone copies the same words, ____.

Q4. If AI filters first and a human reads later, what should your application show most clearly?

What sticks in a person's mind is ____, so I would show ____.

If I had to pick one thing, it would be ____ because ____.

Q5. Is AI screening efficient for companies, or unfair to applicants?

It depends on the company size, but usually ____.

I lean more toward calling it efficient, because ____.
