

01 SMALL TALK

Do you remember your friends' birthdays, or does your phone remind you?

Do you talk more with friends online or in person these days?

When was the last time you texted a friend just to say hi?

02 POP QUIZ — DOES THIS SOUND NATURAL?

1 ~~"I cannot contact to her."~~

'contact'는 바로 목적어가 와요 (contact her). 더 자연스럽게는 'reach'나 'get in touch with'를 써요.

2 ~~"We promised to meet next week."~~

✓ "We made plans to meet up next week."

'promise'는 너무 무겁게 들려요. 가벼운 약속엔 'make plans to'가 자연스러워요.

3 ~~"We are very close friend."~~

✓ "We're really close friends. / We're really close."

친구가 둘 이상이니 'friends' 복수로 써요. 아니면 'close'만 형용사로 써도 돼요.

WARM-UP

Two Truths, One Lie (8분)

1 I have an online friend I've never met in person, but we still talk almost every day.

2 An online friend once remembered my birthday and sent me a gift to my home.

3 I tell my online friends things I have never told my offline friends.

FRIENDSHIP · MAIN DISCUSSION

Online-Only Friendship — Does Remembering Birthdays Count?

BACKGROUND

온라인에서만 자주 이야기하는 친구도 내 취향, 고민, 생일을 잘 챙겨주면 실제로 가까운 사람처럼 느껴질 수 있어요. 자주 만나지는 않아도 메시지의 빈도, 대화의 깊이, 서로 기억해주는 작은 디테일이 관계의 친밀감을 만들기도 해요. 하지만 온라인 친밀감이 어디까지 진짜 친구인지에 대해서는 기준이 갈려요. 누군가는 직접 만나고 시간을 보내야 가깝다고 느끼고, 누군가는 오프라인보다 온라인에서 더 솔직한 대화를 나눌 수 있다고 느껴요. 만난 횟수보다 서로를 얼마나 알고 기억해주는지가 친구 관계에서 더 중요하게 느껴질 수 있어요.

READ BEFORE WE TALK

An online-only friend can feel surprisingly close if they remember your birthday, understand your taste, and listen to your worries. Even without meeting often, regular messages, honest talks, and small remembered details can create real closeness. Still, people disagree on where online friendship becomes real friendship. Some feel that a close friend should share offline time and everyday life. Others feel that online talks can be more honest than casual offline meetings. The question is whether friendship depends more on time spent together, or on attention, memory, and being honest with each other.

WORDS YOU MIGHT NEED

keep in touch — 연락하고 지내다

by heart — 외워서, 안 보고

check in on someone — 안부를 묻다

nothing beats meeting in person — 직접 만나는 게 최고다

it made my day — 덕분에 기분이 좋아졌다

pay attention to — ~에 신경 쓰다

TRY THESE PHRASES

I'd say yes, because remembering my birthday shows real effort.Honestly, the friend is online — but that kind of care still feels genuine.It really comes down to how well someone understands me.Compared to spending lots of time together, being truly understood feels stronger.

EASY ENTRY

- 1 When was the last time you wished an online friend a happy birthday — and how did you remember it?
- 2 Are you more of a 'text-all-day' friend or a 'see-you-in-person' friend?
- 3 Quick — if you had to pick: DMs, group chats, or voice/game chat — where do you talk to your online friends most?
- 4 On a scale of 1 to 5, how often do you message a friend you've never met in person?

MAIN DISCUSSION

Q1. Can an online-only friend who remembers your birthday feel like a real friend? Why or why not?

I'd say yes, because remembering my birthday shows real effort.Honestly, the friend is online — but that kind of care still feels genuine.

Q2. What matters more for closeness — time spent together, or how well someone knows you?

It really comes down to how well someone understands me.Compared to spending lots of time together, being truly understood feels stronger.

Q3. How honest can you be with someone you only know online?

Surprisingly, I can be even more open online than in person.It depends on the person, but usually I share more once I trust them.

Q4. What makes a friend feel close to you — small details, emotional support, or shared taste?

The thing is, small details matter the most to me.What helps me feel close is emotional support when life gets hard.

Q5. When does an online friend start to feel like a real friend to you?

It feels real when we start sharing personal worries.The moment they open up about something private, our friendship changes.
