

01 SMALL TALK

How has your week been so far — busy, relaxed, or somewhere in between?

What's your go-to way to unwind after a long day?

What's something you're looking forward to this week or this weekend?

02 POP QUIZ — DOES THIS SOUND NATURAL?

1 ~~"I want to save my money for future."~~

✓ "I want to save up for the future."

일반적인 의미라 my는 빼는 게 자연스럽고, future 앞엔 the가 필요해요. 원어민은 'save up'을 더 자주 써요.

2 ~~"I spend money to shopping."~~

✓ "I spend money on shopping."

'spend money on + 명사/-ing'가 고정 패턴이에요. to는 쓰지 않아요. 예: spend money on clothes.

3 ~~"The price is too expensive."~~

✓ "It's too expensive."

expensive는 물건·서비스에 써요. price는 high/low로 표현해야 정확해요 ('The price is too high').

Stock Account in the Red — Buy More or Look Away?

🇰🇷 BACKGROUND

주식 시장이 크게 오른다는 뉴스와 주변 사람들의 수익 이야기는 개인의 투자 심리에 영향을 줍니다. 코스피, 빅테크, 수익 인증 같은 말이 계속 보이면 예금이나 현금으로 가만히 있는 선택이 갑자기 뒤쳐지는 것처럼 느껴질 수 있어요. 하지만 주식 투자는 "지금 들어가야 하나"만의 문제가 아니에요. 이미 늦은 것 같은 불안, 더 오를 것 같은 기대, 손실을 보기 싫은 마음, 알람을 끄고 싶을 만큼의 스트레스가 같이 움직여요. 결국 수익률보다 내가 감당할 수 있는 위험과 비교 불안의 기준이 더 중요해져요.

📖 READ BEFORE WE TALK

Stock market FOMO often begins when market news and friends' profit screenshots appear at the same time. A rising KOSPI, strong tech earnings, or a loud online prediction can make safe savings feel strangely passive, even for people who normally avoid risk. The difficult part is that the emotional pressure is not the same as a good investment reason. Some people see a rising market and want to buy before it is too late. Others see the same news and feel that they should turn off notifications because the anxiety is affecting their daily mood. The tension is the gap between opportunity and emotional affordability: how much risk, comparison, and uncertainty a person can actually live with. A red account tests whether someone is following a plan or simply reacting to fear and comparison.
