

01 SMALL TALK

Did you eat anything good this week?
What was it?

Do you like trying new restaurants, or do you go back to your favorites?

What's one food you could eat every day and never get tired of?

🔍 02 POP QUIZ — DOES THIS SOUND NATURAL?

① ~~"The schedule is very tight."~~

✓ "We've got a really packed schedule."

일정이 꼭 찰다는 뜻이면 tight보다 packed / jam-packed가 자연스러워요.

② ~~"I want to go travel."~~

✓ "I want to go traveling."

go + travel처럼 동사를 바로 붙이지 않아요. go traveling 또는 go on a trip을 쓰세요.

③ ~~"I took a rest in hotel."~~

✓ "I rested at the hotel."

take a rest는 콩글리시예요. rest나 relax를 동사로 쓰고, hotel 앞에는 the가 필요해요.

🎯 03 오늘의 워업

각자 1-4위로 순위 매기고 1위만 말하기. 다른 사람 의견 들으며 자기 순위 한 번 더 정리.

WARM-UP

Rank Them (5분)

1. A bowl of famous local noodles (like udon)
2. A special dessert or cake shop
3. A cozy coffee place locals love
4. A small hidden restaurant only locals know

TRAVEL · MAIN DISCUSSION

Food-Only Trips — Romantic Focus or Too Narrow?

🇰🇷 BACKGROUND

음식 하나를 목표로 떠나는 여행은 낭만적으로 느껴질 수도 있고, 너무 좁은 일정처럼 보일 수도 있어요. 우동, 디저트, 커피, 로컬 맛집처럼 분명한 목적이 있으면 여행이 선명해지지만, 기대한 맛이 아니면 전체 일정이 흔들릴 위험도 있어요. 음식 중심 여행의 재미는 먹는 순간만이 아니라 찾아가고, 기다리고, 비교하는 과정에 있어요. 그래서 같이 가는 사람이 그 과정을 함께 즐기는지가 꽤 중요해요.

📖 READ BEFORE WE TALK

A food-only trip sounds simple: pick one dish, go somewhere for it, and build the day around that taste. For some people, that focus makes the trip more memorable. The place has a clear reason, and even waiting in line becomes part of the story. For others, it feels too narrow. If the meal is disappointing or the schedule gets too repetitive, the whole trip can lose energy. Food-centered travel works best when people enjoy the process, not just the result: researching, comparing, walking to small places, and talking about whether the taste lived up to the hype. Travel choices also show personality fast — comfort, money, planning, and how people handle small problems. The same route or long ride can feel romantic to one person and tiring to another.

💡 WORDS YOU MIGHT NEED

Was it worth it? — 그럴 값어치 했어?

go with the flow — 흐름에 맡기다, 즉흥적으로

a must-eat place — 꼭 먹어봐야 하는 곳

a hidden gem — 숨은 맛집/명소

live up to the hype — 소문만큼 좋다

make or break — 성패를 가르다

🗣️ TRY THESE PHRASES

Honestly, I would — but only if the dish is truly special.

It depends on the food, but usually a famous local dish is worth the trip.

Even if the meal lets me down, I'd say the trip is still worth it because of everything else.

Looking back, one bad meal taught me that the journey matters more than the food.

⚡ EASY ENTRY

- 1 Are you more of a 'research every spot before you go' or a 'just wander and find food there' traveler?
- 2 When was the last time you went out of your way — a detour or a long trip across town — just for one specific dish?
- 3 Quick — if you had to pick one food worth a whole trip: noodles, dessert, or coffee?
- 4 Finish this: 'When I find food I really love on a trip, I usually ____.'

🗣️ MAIN DISCUSSION

Q1. Would you travel somewhere just for one food? Why or why not?

↳ Honestly, I would — but only if the dish is truly special.

↳ It depends on the food, but usually a famous local dish is worth the trip.

Q2. If the famous meal turned out disappointing, would the trip still feel worth it?

↳ Even if the meal lets me down, I'd say the trip is still worth it because of everything else.

↳ Looking back, one bad meal taught me that the journey matters more than the food.

Q3. When food is the main goal, how long would you wait in line for it? What's your limit?

↳ Most of the time, I can wait about an hour if the food is really worth it.

↳ My limit is around 30 minutes — after that, I usually give up and find somewhere else.

Q4. Who is the best person to take on a food-focused trip — and who is the worst?

↳ The best person to bring is someone who loves food as much as I do.

↳ What helps me decide is whether the person enjoys trying new things or just complains.

Q5. Does a food trip need sightseeing too, or can the meal be enough?

↳ The way I see it, a great meal can be enough on its own.

↳ When I think about it, a little sightseeing makes the whole food trip even better.